THE SOCIAL WORLD

Senator and Mrs Hanna Entertain Capital Society.

GREAT BRILLIANCY OF THE SCENE

Closing of the Season and the Pleasures Offered.

PERSONAL NOTES

Senator and Mrs. Hanna gave not only the largest but what was also one of the most interesting receptions of the winter last night. The parlor suite at the Arlington, the banquet hall and rooms adjacent were at the service of their guests, and were profusely adorned with flowers. An orchestra played in the banquet hall, being gradually pushed back to the music gallery by the company as the latter grew larger. The music was a delightful feature and after midnight played for the dancing contingent, who were in no hurry to go home. The senator and his wife received in the first parlor, both most affable and cordial in their welcomes of friend and stranger. Mrs. Hanna was superbly gowned in white brocade and point lace and wore magnificent diamonds. Their pleasing greetings were repeated by Miss Phelps, gowned in black lace and jet and the Misses Hanna, the elder in white, and the younger, in blue. A supper table extended half way round the banquet hall with a large corps of men to serve the substantial dainties and champagne punch. Some notably fine tollets were worn.

Mrs. Shaw, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, wore white corded silk and Valenciennes lace, diamonds; Mrs. Payne, wife of the Postmaster General, black and silver lace, necklace of rubies in antique settings; Miss Jones, in pink chiffon; Mrs. Fair-banks, white lace, appliqued with silk designs, diamonds; Mrs. Azpiroz, blue satin, with insertions of lace, diamonds and pearls; Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, white lace, diamond and pearl collar; Mrs. Chauncey Depew, blue and black brocade, with white lace, a diamond collar of rich design; Mrs. Miles, white lace; Mrs. Townsend, jetted lace, diamonds and pearls; Mrs. Burrows, white lace, with pansy garniture; Mrs. John W. Foster, pompadour silk, with heavy lace insertions; Mrs. Robert Lansing, white mousseline over pink; Mrs. Sternberg, black velvet and point lace; Mrs. Cullom, white silk and lace; Miss Fisher, white mouseline. white mousseline.

Miss Helen Cannon, black chantilly lace over white silk; Mrs. Ridgeley, pink bro-cade with insertions of black and white lace; Miss Mary Waite, white lace; Mrs. Robert J. Wynne, white satin covered with silver-spangled lace with touches of rose velvet; Mrs. Grosvenor, white lace; Mrs. Thomas Wilson, silver-spangled black net over gray satin; Mrs. Teller, brocaded white satin and point lace; Mrs. Richardson, rose brocade; Mrs. Dolliver, white liberty satin and lace; Mrs. Radcliffe, white lace; Mrs. Richardson Clover, black lace and superb diamond corsage ornaments; Mrs. Dolph, black velvet and point lace. The thousand guests invited included the cabinet, the Supreme Court, members of the diplomatic corps, the entire Senate and all the Ohio delegation in the House of Representatives with many other acquaintances of the family in private life. The occasion would be supported to the control of the control of engagements to be canceled.

The list of those invited, most of whom Hanna's, Mrs. Townsend's and Mrs. were present, included, in part, the following: The Speaker of the House, Gen. and Mrs. Miles, Gen and Mrs. Gillespie, Assist-ROKEN PIECES: Mrs. Miles, Gen and Mrs. Hill, the ant Secretary of State and Mrs. San-Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. San-Assistant Secretary and Mrs. Cowles, Mr. and Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. Sanger, Commander and Mrs. Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. Cortelyou, Mr. and Mrs. Austin, Judge and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Butterworth, Mrs. and the Misses Berry, Mrs. Butterworth, Mr. and Mrs. Beck, Admiral and Mrs. Bradford, Col. and Mrs. Brigham, Lieut. Mrs. Seebold regrets she will not be able to be at home Monday, February 10, as heretofore announced. The touch of sympathy every one shares for the sick boy beside whom the wife of the President is watching today tinges the close of the short and merry season with a shadow of a cloud which happily may be quickly lifted. It means, however, the withdrawal of the President and his daugh-ter from the social engagements in which
